Sage Timberline Office

Your Update! For Construction and Real Estate

Learn how to bring enterprise-wide financial planning to your company with a FREE budgeting Webcast.

Sign up for a FREE Sage Active Planner for Sage Timberline Office Webcast and learn how your company can realize its strategic goals and benefit from the robust management of budget collaboration and enterprise-wide financial planning.

You know how important is to have the most accurate financial information readily available. But having to rely on a manual process with multiple spreadsheets and multi-stage processes to track and analyze data can be time-consuming and inefficient, resulting in inaccurate budgets and poor forecasting. Fortunately, Sage has a better way!

With Sage Active Planner for Sage Timberline Office, you can easily manage the financial planning process, conduct in-depth analyses, and develop detailed business plans. Find out how you can employ a host of sophisticated data management and analysis tools designed to boost your accuracy and shorten your processing time, featuring:

- Robust management for budget collaboration, planning, and integration across the enterprise.
- Sophisticated analysis with multidimensional analysis tools, what-if analyses, and data visualization tools.
- Comprehensive calculation to create an unlimited number of formulas and formula lines, apply flexible spreading techniques, and define global and local formulas.

Please join Gary Maher of Sage Active Planner on November 4th or December 9th at 10 a.m. PDT as he gives an overview of the Sage Active Planner product, its great benefits and integration. Click here to register for the FREE live Webcast.
